Nationally and internationally known for her crocheted gold, silver and niobium jewelry and sculpture, Joan Dulla has been featured in Lapidary Journal, Bead and Button, and Ornament magazines. Her work has been shown at Philadelphia Museum of Arts Show, Washington Craft Show, One of A Kind Show in Chicago, and Craft Park Avenue in NYC. Joan teaches workshops all across the US.

Students will learn how to color niobium using an anodizer, use a paint brush with an anodizer to color niobium, and learn how to mask off areas for different color changes. We will experiment with different ways to form and texture niobium and there will be discussions and demos of different kinds of cold connections for niobium and titanium, shaping and stamping.

Skill level: Beginner
